

Question: Are you in favor of the introduction of quarterly products to the Dunkirk PIR and of the suppression of the annual rolling products, following the arrangements proposed by GRTgaz?

Eni is indeed in favour of introducing quarterly products at the Dunkirk PIR as well as of the suppression of the annual rolling products.

Looking at the options proposed by GRTgaz, Eni favours option B in which a request for quarterly capacity would not give rise to a return of capacity by another shipper. Eni agrees that otherwise, the holders of returnable capacities would be required to return the most desirable quarters for the market and keep only the quarters that are less desirable.
